Brown Fails To Recall Serving On Committee

By TROY MARTIN

Dr. Kenneth I. Brown said Tuesday he does not remember whether he once served on a welcoming committee for the Red Dean of Canterbury when the pro-Communist British prelate visited the U.S.

"I went to hear him speak but I don't remember about the welcoming committee," said Dr. Brown, here as principal speaker for West Texas State College Religious Emphasis Week.

Dr. Brown likewise "did not remember" three other incidents with which his name has been connected by a Cincinnati publishing company.

A book titled "6000 Educators" lists the following under Brown's name:

"(1) Appeal to Guard Civil Rights--signer -- Daily Worker, August 28, 1950, page 3.

"(2) Committee of Welcome for the very Reverend Hewlett Johnson -- member -- Daily Worker, September 22, 1948, page 5.

"(3) Statement endorsing publication and distribution of the report of seven clergymen who visited Yugoslavia -- signer -- press release, October 31, 1947.

"(4) World Peace Appeal -- signer -- leaflet, August 31, 1950."

The Very Reverend Hewlett Johnson was the notorious Red Dean of Canterbury, pro-Communist English church official.

The book was published by Circuit Riders, Inc., of Cincinnati.

"Kenneth I. Brown nor anyone else has ever made any denial to us that any item in the book is true and correct," M. G. Lowman, executive secretary for Circuit Riders, Inc., told The Canyon News by telephone Tuesday night.

"I signed many things," said Brown in answer to questioning about the items cited by Circuit Riders, Inc. "I am a liberal."

"I don't remember. It has been 14 years," he continued. "I never saw my name in the Daily Worker."

Although Dr. Brown said he "didn't remember" signing the World Peace Appeal in August of 1950, he brightened and remembered when asked about the Stockholm Peace Petition, circulated world-wide about the same time.

"I know I didn't sign that," he declared.

"Dr. Kenneth Brown's long life of service and working for Christian Education in the U.S. speak for themselves," said Dr. James P. Cornette, West Texas State College president, when he was contacted by The News Wednesday.

The House Un-American Activities Committee, in a revised report published Dec. 1, 1961, lumps the Stockholm Petition and the World Peace Appeal together as one and the same.

Said HUAC's report: "Witness Barbara Hartle showed without contradiction and was corroborated by documentary material that the Communist Party used the Peace Petition for the purpose of combatting the foreign policies of the United States, specifically at a time when the United States had the atomic bomb and other countries did not have it; that the circulation of the Peace Petition was a tactic of the Party in the program to achieve world communism."

The News, on short notice before press time, was unable to find any substantial material on item (1) Appeal to Guard Civil Rights or item (3) statement endorsing publication and distribution of the report of seven clergymen who visited Yugoslavia.

So The People May Know

(AN EDITORIAL)

During the past few weeks, The Canyon News has given advance publicity to Religious Emphasis Week at West Texas State College.

We believe that those connected with the program would affirm that this publication granted their request for publicity on every occasion.

Tuesday morning, some of the background of the top billed speaker for the week was brought to our attention. We felt that, in honesty, we could do no less than bring this background to the attention of those who will hear Dr. Brown.

LaGrone, Gill, Cox Win Trustee Posts

The Canyon Independent School District has three new trustees--Jerry LaGrone, Joe Gill, and Wesley Cox.

They were elected Saturday to replace A.C. Haley, Jr., W.W. Sternberg and Walter Graham. Only Graham sought re-election.

The board met Tuesday night, installed the new members and elected Bob Wear, who had been associate secretary, as president.

They also named J.O. Parker vice president, LaGrone associate secretary and re-elected Mrs. Clay Cooper secretary. Dr. Charles R. Nester is the seventh trustee.

Arnold Prichard and Pete Cowart also were in the race for the three expiring posts.

The new trustees will serve three-year terms.

The vote:
Gill, 347; LaGrone, 306; Cox, 278; Cowart, 216; Graham, 197; and Prichard, 160.

Three members of the Randall County School board--none of whom drew formal opposition -- were re-elected. They were Marion Bruce of Precinct 1, Charles Beckman of Precinct 2 and J.D. Barker of the County-at-Large.

Two trustee spots vacant in Happy were won by John Toles, with 105 votes, and Eugene Sims, who polled 90. Five men filed for the posts, with Burl Sims polling 88 ballots, C.D. Zachry 76 and L.E. Holland 22.

President R.S. Francy and Secretary M.C. Nichols, whose terms were expiring, did not seek re-election.

In Umbarger Common School District 11, Ed Weick garnered 39 votes and won the seat being vacated by L.L. Raef. His only opponent, Ray Gerber, polled 5 votes.

News Publishes Annual Report

You can meet the people who operate your city in this issue of The Canyon News.

For the first time, this newspaper is printing the City of Canyon's annual report. Three pages of pictures and stories about city government and employees appear in section two on pages 1-3.

A published annual report is required under the city charter. The News was designated as the vehicle this year because of its wide city circulation.

New Court Term Is Set By Jordan

The April term of the Randall County District Court will open April 23, when a new grand jury will be empaneled.

District Judge E. E. Jordan of Amarillo will hear non-jury cases during the week of April 23. Criminal and civil cases will be tried before a jury the following week.

Lindsey Accepts New One-Year Board Term

Paul Lindsey has accepted the remaining one-year term on the City Commission from Place 5.

Canyon's governing body offered him the seat Monday night and then he and the three re-elected commissioners were sworn into office, the latter for additional two-year terms.

They are Mayor Delbert E. Lowes of Place 1, Clarence E. Thompson of Place 2, and George E. Ritter of Place 3.

Place 4 Commissioner John E. Williams, whose term won't expire until next year, was named mayor pro-tem.

Lindsey had been serving an unexpired term from Place 1 but he did not seek re-election. The Place 5 seat will not be submitted to the voters until next year.

In other action Monday night the panel released work orders under the city's $95,000 assessment paving program. Construction on Ninth Ave. is expected to get underway this week.

Work is scheduled to be completed within 120 days.

City Manager Bill York reported that 43 animals--38 dogs and five cats--had been impounded under the city's new animal ordinance.

All of the cats and 23 of the dogs have been destroyed since the ordinance became effective last week, he said. The other 15 dogs were redeemed by owners.

York said 393 animal licenses have been sold.

The commission also:

1. Named Glenn Dorris to replace resigned Hugh Greiner on the city's electrical board.

2. Authorized York to authorize the advertisement of bids for cleaning and painting the downtown water storage tank, work which is expected to cost about $3,500.

3. Authorized "informal" bids for some $500 in new fire department equipment.

4. Okayed $291.80 for an emergency stop-light "blinking" system in downtown Canyon.

5. Appropriated money for election officials in the April 3 city voting.

DON STANDLEY

Group Names Don Standley

Don Standley, vice president of the First National Bank in Canyon, has been named area chairman of the Symphonic Drama Campaign.

The appointment was announced by Wales Madden, general chairman of the drive to raise $350,000 for an amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Symphonic drama is the first step in the development of the area arts by the Amarillo Area Foundation and the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation.

Standley is a member of the Rotary Club and treasurer of the Panhandle Bankers Association. He served in the Navy during World War II and is a graduate of West Texas State College.

The AAF and TPFH held a joint dinner conference in Amarillo last week, when the campaign was discussed.

Standley, his wife, Alice Ruth, and children, Joan, Rob, Donna and Karen, live at 2504 Eleventh Ave.

Body Works On Routine

The Randall County commissioners held court most of the day Monday, largely on routine matters.

They did agree they want to take a look-see at specifications for the proposed new windows--estimated to cost some $31,000--at the courthouse before advertising for bids.

They also:

1. Moved the May 5 ballot box from the Highland School to the home of Mrs. Bill Woods and named her election judge to replace L.E. Mason.

2. Inspected the new addition to the courthouse annex in South Amarillo. They discussed buying several pieces of new furniture there and authorized Sheriff L.S. "Slim" Johnston to have an engineer estimate the cost of paving and draining a new parking area.

Issue Of $600,000 At Stake At Polls

BY WILLIAM PEART

Voters in the Canyon Independent School District will decide Saturday if they want to spend $600,000 on their elementary and junior high school educational facilities.

Heavy balloting is expected between 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. in the American Legion Building.

If approved--and under present plans--the money would be used:

1. To expand the present elementary school to accommodate student in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

2. For improvements at Canyon Junior High school.

First, second and third grade students would attend classes in the present elementary building.

"Those are the things the board is now studying," Superintendent Joe Gibson said. "We are studying every possibility."

Such a plan, he added, would be multi-purpose.

An expansion--rather than a separate new building--would save the taxpayers perhaps $70,000 in construction, the superintendent said.

That represents some $20,000 in dining facilities savings plus about $50,000 by utilizing land already owned by the school district.

Operational and administrative functions could be consolidated to reflect additional and significant savings, Gibson said.

"Also," Gibson said, "we would not have to disturb the little league baseball parks now on the property. They would remain intact, and no changes would be made there. The diamonds would continue to be available."

Other benefits would be realized, he added, through a centralized location--such as transportation and a better balance of classes.

Gibson called the proposal "certainly the most economical plan we could devise."

"We want to get the most out of the money we want to spend," Bob Wear, new board president, said.

Under the plan, the new addition would be on the north end of the present building.

The savings would be available for extra work at the junior high building.

"We need that to modernize our Junior High School," Wear said. "We could build the single elementary school we need plus do the work needed at the junior high."

Gibson said the architect would affect "savings where ever possible."

The present school is filled to capacity, the superintendent said, with some 650 students being enrolled this year.

"The fourth grade had to be split this year," Gibson said, "and some pupils are attending classes in the junior high building."

A Citizens Committee has recommended that new elementary facilities be available for September of 1963. It also reported that the junior high's cafeteria in a wooden barracks

Car Inspection Deadline Nears

Justice of the Peace W.A. "Bill" Wilson issues this final reminder:

The deadline for car inspection under Texas law is April 15.

Either get it done by then, he adds, or be subject to a $1.00 penalty plus $15.50 in court costs.

"That's all I have to say," Wilson says. "Every person in the county has been given ample notice."

CITY JUDGE D. P. Clark administers the oath of office to City Commissioners Clarence E. Thompson, George Ritter, Paul Lindsey and Mayor Delbert E. Lowes

Hereford's Growth Sound

Last year residents were surprised when Hereford showed a total of $271,430 in building permits for the first quarter. This year the city turned in an amazing $363,210 -- a gain of almost $100,000 for the parallel three-month period.

No doubt about it, Hereford is growing. The growth is perhaps higher than ever before, and indications are that the trend will continue on an increasing ratio.

Hereford's growth appears to be where it is most needed, namely in the residential areas. Commercial construction, on the other hand, seems to be adequate with even a few vacancies, mostly consisting of older buildings and occasional undesirable locations.

Public improvements, now at a minimum, invariably follow residential construction. This fact is indicated in the present hospital expansion, and in preliminary plans for school expansion in coming months.

How big Hereford will ultimately get is a question no one can answer. It does figure, however, that building will continue so long as people cannot find adequate housing, and we should be thankful indeed that our growth has been steady and consistent, rather than on a "boom" basis. An over-built town is in far worse shape than one which is under-built -- and still growing.

The Honeymoon Is Over

The rebuff handed President John F. Kennedy on his proposal for a new Department of Urban Affairs is an indication of the conservative mood of Congress and the end of its honeymoon with the chief executive.

It should be remembered that when Kennedy was elected, the people of the country also elected this Congress, and the vote between Kennedy and Richard Nixon was so close that it certainly didn't amount to a liberal sweep across the nation.

The number one strategic question, then, for the Kennedy Administration at this juncture, is whether to make an all-out fight for the most liberal phases of the platform. One of the symbols of this was represented in the proposal to create a Department of Urban Affairs.

But, unfortunately, racial politics was injected into the question. Though many writers reported that all Southern Democrats rejected the plan because a Negro was to become the head of the new department, this was not true. What they did often object to was a racial appeal -- the announcement that a Negro would be named head of the department before Congress had acted on the presidential proposal.

Nor did Republicans think the race angle should have been injected into the issue. And so while some Southerners might have voted against the proposal on racial grounds, not a few objected to the methods employed. So did the Republicans. And this is not likely to be the President's only rebuff at this session of Congress.

Hilltop Views

In the April number of the Journal of the National Education Association is a long series of short articles under the caption, WHAT IS A WELL-EDUCATED MAN. Sixteen men and women, presumably well-educated individuals, attempt to answer that question. Among them are such notables as the U. S. Commissioner of Education, two or three university presidents, the President of the National Education Association, at least two U. S. Senators, the Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, the general director of the American Association of University Women, an M.D., and a minister of national distinction.

Having dabbled a little in education myself and having once spoken some eight or ten times in a row (Lord, forgive me!) to faculty and students at West Texas State on "The Marks of an Educated Man" and having learned so much recently about education that isn't so, I am asking my readers (if any) to bear with me through the following observations:

1. I think that it should be more widely recognized that not all education takes place in the school-room. Sometimes we mistake the symbols of education for the substance. We are prone to take it for granted that one who carries around a string of degrees attached to his name is a well-educated person. He should be, and he may be, but also he may not be. Degrees only indicate one's exposure to certain educational opportunities. There is a goodly number of people in this town who never darkened a college class-room door who, nevertheless, carry many of the marks of an educated man. They love the truth, seek knowledge, serve well their community and their fellow man, support loyally the principles of free government, exercise a becoming measure of self-control, and walk humbly before God. In my opinion, no one is well-educated, of whom these things cannot be said.

2. As a sort of corollary to the above paragraph it cannot be emphasized too much that the home is the most abiding influence, positive or negative, in all education. Pardon the personal reference, but my parents gave me the first elements of a good education before I knew that colleges and universities existed, and I was never able to divorce myself from its influence. Believe me, the good teachers in our schools know a lot about the education their pupils have received and are now receiving in their homes.

3. The influence of both private citizens and public officials upon the education of youth is tremendous. In no small measure do they determine who in the community will be "well-educated." On which side of the ledger in the education of youth is the influence of even a faithful church man whose business life gives the lie to his religion? And what can we say of the public official who betrays the duties and responsibilities of his office for the sake of personal financial or political gain? These things, happening all too often at local, state, and national levels, damage the processes of true education. They cause many a youngster to accept a "fool's gold" education as a substitute for that which makes life abundant and saves our country from decay.

4. In repeating the above truisms I hope I shall not be considered unappreciative of colleges and universities. I would not have given 38 years of my life to West Texas State had I not had utmost faith in its opportunity and its ability to cultivate in young people a wholesome, unquenchable desire to be truly well-educated.

5. Education is not something you go to school and get, wrap up like a merchant wraps a garment, and then go away and wear it out. Education is a life-long process, beginning at the cradle (if not before) and ending at the grave (maybe). Schools exist to help along the education process. If they do well their job millions of their human products will learn to view life as a process of growth in intellectual, moral, and spiritual values and will never consider themselves well-educated until they have exhausted their capacity to learn.

6. As the educative process advances, one's contact with the ideas and ideals of great men and women of the past opens new avenues of thought, stimulates desire for greater knowledge, and enriches one's culture. One who has no sense of history, no love for the great masterpieces of literature, art, music, and the sciences lacks something of being well-educated. He cannot understand the nature of human progress nor make maximum contribution to it.

7. Finally, the well-educated person, in the words of Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, "has a philosophy of life sufficiently sound to give meaning to his daily work and clear goals to his long pursuits. He has a sense of history which enables him to see the passing scene in the perspective of things invisible and eternal. His imagination is trained and sensitized to see how life looks to peoples of other cultures and creeds and colors. His sympathy is cultivated to the point where he does not sacrifice persons on the altar of principles or compromise principles by easy conformity. His aim is not to master men for the making of things, but to master things for the making of men."

In short the educated man is one whose knowledge matures into wisdom."

Just Sort Of....

I like my new-fangled way of milling about hotel lobbies and visiting with the folks. The brogan, as my English kinfolks would have it, fits. It fits good. Simply, that means I went conventioning up in Amarillo last week. To the Panhandle Press Association's once-a-year get-together.

I'd been there before, back in the dark ages when I punched a typewriter for United Press International. Then, I was sort of a quarter-baked goodwill-type, in addition, of course, to reporting the goings-on of the newspaper brethren gathered there.

I was the one who scooped up the medium-rare T-Bone steak tabs, uncapped Coke bottles, and poked the up-and-down buttons controlling the elevators.

The expense accounts were accomodating, and the flint-eyed auditors in New York never quibbled over the mighty total at the tail end of the sheet.

But I had to sleep fast if I wanted to be bright-eyed and bushy come the A.M.

It ain't that way, now. I'm a customer. The other folks from UPI and AP and the newsprint companies do my bidding. I developed into a right smart bidder right quick.

I like being on this side of the corral. I used to eye a menu from right-to-left. Not any more. I've become a left-side man. Shucks, who gives a Rebel Yell about figures.

You gets what they pays for. Don't hold onto any stock in those so-called rubies of wisdom about the shrubbery ain't always a darker hue on the other side, because it is.

I know. I've galloped about both sides of the pasture. And I like this side, thanks.

Mayor Sets Loyalty Day Here May 1

Mayor Delbert E. Lowes has proclaimed May 1 as Loyalty Day in Canyon.

He urged that every man, woman and child join in a public demonstration that will show to the peoples of the world our undivided devotion to our government and our way of life.

"I further urge," Mayor Lowes added, "full and complete cooperation by all organizations within our state to actively participate in all public Loyalty Day celebrations and to assist the Veterans of Foreign Wars in urging a public display of flags by all our citizens on May 1."

Loyalty Day has been observed nationally since it was approved by Congress in 1958. The proclamation said, in part:

"Whereas, it becomes more important each day that our citizens be reminded of the blessings of this country so that they are prepared to fight the inroads of Communism at home, National Loyalty Day now affords them that opportunity to proclaim their faith in democratic form of government.

"Whereas, there are continuing efforts to destroy the dignity of man through the suppression of freedom of speech, freedom of press and freedom of worship as one chooses; and

"Whereas, it is the duty of each American to stand up for that which he believes and that which thousands of Americans have died for on battlefields throughout the world..."

CHS Americanism Week Observance Underway

(The following article on Americanism Week at Canyon High School was prepared by Mrs. Lillian Graham, teacher of World History at CHS.)

The main objective of Americanism Week: To compare some aspects of the free United States to the aspects of any restricted communist country, dwelling on the ordinary things of life.

Specific objectives:

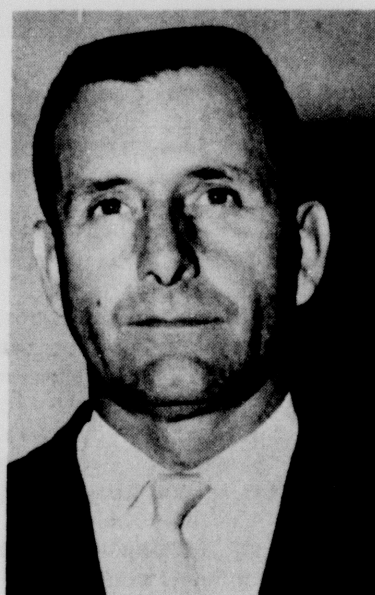

1. To impress by comparisons in common things -- faucets, appliances, cars.
2. To impress by comparisons in government--ballot of U. S., "the wall," "communist manifesto," Bible.
3. To impress by showing slogans, "shoe of Khrushchev," American ice-cream soda.
4. To impress by noting communist satellites in "play on words."
5. To recognize propaganda from communist country in print and speech.

Procedure:

1. Display of above.
2. Explanations by pupils.

One day, pupils on the north side of the class will take the free world's way of acting and those on the south side will give the restricted world's way. The sides are reversed each day.

No particular topic is assigned. Each will recite according to his interest. There is material in the classroom for use, or the students can draw on their personal knowledge.

Teen Topics

Everyone's attention is focused around Americanism Week. This week, April 9-13, is sponsored by the National Honor Society, with Virginia Crounse as president.

Each morning about 8:20 a flag raising ceremony is performed by the Boy Scouts. Students in and around the building stand at attention while the flag is raised. A pep band has been assisting the Boy Scouts by playing the "Star Spangled Banner."

Short talks have been given over the P.A. system each morning centered around being an American.

Individual classes have also been paying special attention to Americanism Week.

Bulletin boards have been put up in the room of Mr. Charlie Chambliss, history instructor. Reports on American leaders and ideals have been given in other rooms. Every class has some specialized activity.

One of the most interesting exhibits is in Mrs. Lillian Graham's room. An "Iron Curtain" divides it into two parts, one showing things pertaining to the American way of life and the other to the Russian way of life.

An assembly presented Tuesday by the Future Homemakers of America gave a special salute to the flags of America. The program is to be presented at the State FFA Meeting to be held in Dallas, April 26-28.

Art students of Mrs. Royal Brantley have on exhibition a display of pictures drawn by the art classes.

Anyone wishing to see the display is urged to visit the school where the pictures are hung in the south and west corridors.

This is just a reminder that this week is also Youth Week in Canyon.

The Youth from all churches are participating in Youth Week.

The FFA boys made a fine showing at the District Meeting Saturday, on the West Texas State campus.

The dairy cattle judging team won first in the district and also in the area, and the poultry judging team won second.

In the Sweepstake, Canyon placed third.

Final Date Is Extended By ASCS

The closing date for the 1962 federal feed grain program has been extended through Monday, according to an announcement.

The closing date was extended until Saturday "in view of difficulty confronting producers because of unusually bad weather and the pending change in legislation affecting the summer fallow area."

That extended closing date, however, falls on a non-working day. Consequently, intentions to participate may be filed to the close of business on Monday, the announcement said.

Allie W. Clark, acting office manager of the Randall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, also reported that:

"April 13 is the final date to apply for additional cotton acreage made available from released cotton allotments. It is also the final date for releasing cotton allotments for 1962."

Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Nester have returned to Canyon from Austin, where they attended annual "Round-up" activities at Texas University. Dr. Nester is an alumnus of the University, and their son, Chuck, is presently completing his sophomore year there.

by John Brazzil COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

The livestock marketing specialist of the Texas A&M College Extension Service has released some state-wide information on the cattle situation. Cattle and calves in Texas increased 3% since Jan. 1961. This increase was in beef-type cattle. The number of dairy animals decreased.

The range feed condition in Texas has improved. Conditions at this time remain below last year's level, but they are much better than the 1951-60 average.

There are 235 feedlots in Texas. Half of these have capacities of less than one thousand head. Thirty eight per cent of the lots have capacities from 1 to 5 thousand head. The larger feed lot units with capacities of 5 to 10 thousand head account for 9% of this total. The larger lots with capacities exceeding 10 thousand head account for the remaining 3%.

Cattle and calves on feed in Texas increased 27% from January a year ago. The number of heifers on feed increased. The number on feed now shows about half heifers and half steers. The trend is now toward lighter cattle and a shorter feeding period.

Randall County is now preparing to participate in the wheat program through the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP). The county is now organized with a slate of officers and county and community chairmen. John L. Hammond heads this committee as chairman. Serving with Hammond are Vice-Chairman Donald M. Olson, and Secretary B. R. Sparks. Don Standley is treasurer.

This group will make a county solicitation of wheat about June 1 as a contribution to overseas relief.

The screw-worm eradication in Texas is now in full swing. Thus far there has been no outbreaks of this pest outside of the control area. Each week now about 15 million sterile flies are released in deep south Texas.

Randall County livestock producers are doing their part in support of this program. A report from the local producers last week showed that about 15 hundred dollars has been put into this program by producers here. Their efforts are not over because several reports have not been made.

Sullivan To Canyon Firm

Hugh Sullivan, a veteran in the automobile business, has joined Imperial Chevrolet's new and used car sales department.

He came here from Amarillo, where he was with Plains Chevrolet. He joined that firm in 1950.

Sullivan, who has lived in Amarillo 30 years, entered the automotive field in 1939, when he became associated with AC Sparkplug, a division of General Motors.

Sullivan and his wife will move to Canyon. They have two married daughters, one living in Amarillo and the other in Baltimore.

He is a Baptist and a member of the Masonic Lodge, Khiva Shrine.

Sullivan served with the Navy during World War II.

Texas cattle feeders marketed an increased number of fat cattle during March and, although the market showed some ups and downs, prices at the close of the month were generally steady to higher.

Lectures Will End

The annual Willson Lecture Series at West Texas State College will end tomorrow morning with a 10:15 o'clock address by Dr. Kenneth I. Brown.

Dr. Brown will talk on "Africa is Mostly People" in the Administration Building auditorium today. Tomorrow's topic will be "Africa: Both Pain and Promise."

The speaker, recently retired as executive director of the Danforth Foundation, spent six months in Africa. He interviewed people on their political, economic, social and educational life.

He outlined various aspects of African life in his initial talk Tuesday and yesterday he spoke on Africa's religious and educational revolutions.

Special vespers programs have been held each evening at the different religious centers on campus, with visiting ministers participating in the programs. Discussion sessions have been held in men's and women's dormitories each night at 10 o'clock.

A joint student vespers program is scheduled tonight at 6:30 o'clock in the Joseph A. Hill Chapel, sponsored by the Inter-Faith Council.

Special music each morning is being given by the Rev. and Mrs. Gene Moore, assistant pastor of the Polk Street Methodist Church of Amarillo.

Sponsors and speaker for the annual Willson Lecture Series at West Texas State College study the program with Dr. James P. Cornette, left, WT president. Also left are Mrs. J. M. Willson, Dr. Kenneth I. Brown, Willson, and Dr. Cornette. The series will close tomorrow morning.

HARDWARE HOUSEWARES GIFT SHOP

P.O. BOX 89 — CANYON, TEXAS

April 12, 1962

To Our Customers:

Since November of last year we have been moving, remodeling and generally changing the complexion of our business. Now these changes are practically completed. We hope with the explanation below and the help of the accompanying map that you will be able to find your way around.

New Gift Shop and Housewares Department- Here we have put together all of the items that we offer for brides, gift occasions and home decoration as well as the necessary equipment used everyday by home makers.

New Hardware Department- In this department we offer all the merchandise that folks usually think of as "belonging" in a general Hardware Store. We have included baby furniture and accessories so that they will be close to the toys and games.

New Furniture Show Room- When our remodeling began we thought there would be no room for furniture. However, it has proved possible to use the space formerly the Gift Shop as a Furniture Show Room by using the space upstairs formerly given to used furniture as a warehouse for new furniture.

Since the show space is not large we will show a carefully selected assortment that we hope will be worthy of your consideration when you shop for furniture. Most of our furniture has been chosen because of the availability on special order of other upholsteries, furnishes or additional pieces.

Since we can no longer take used furniture in trade we are offering special prices on most of our furniture and we invite you to compare.

Although some of our furniture has not arrived, we will be showing such lines as these:

Tell City- Hard Rock Maple Early American
Permalux- Top Grade Living Room Furniture
Victorian- Mahogany Reproduction Furniture
Broyhill- Provincial, Traditional Living Room, Bedroom and Dining Room

Fogle- Traditional, Provincial, Chairs and Sofas

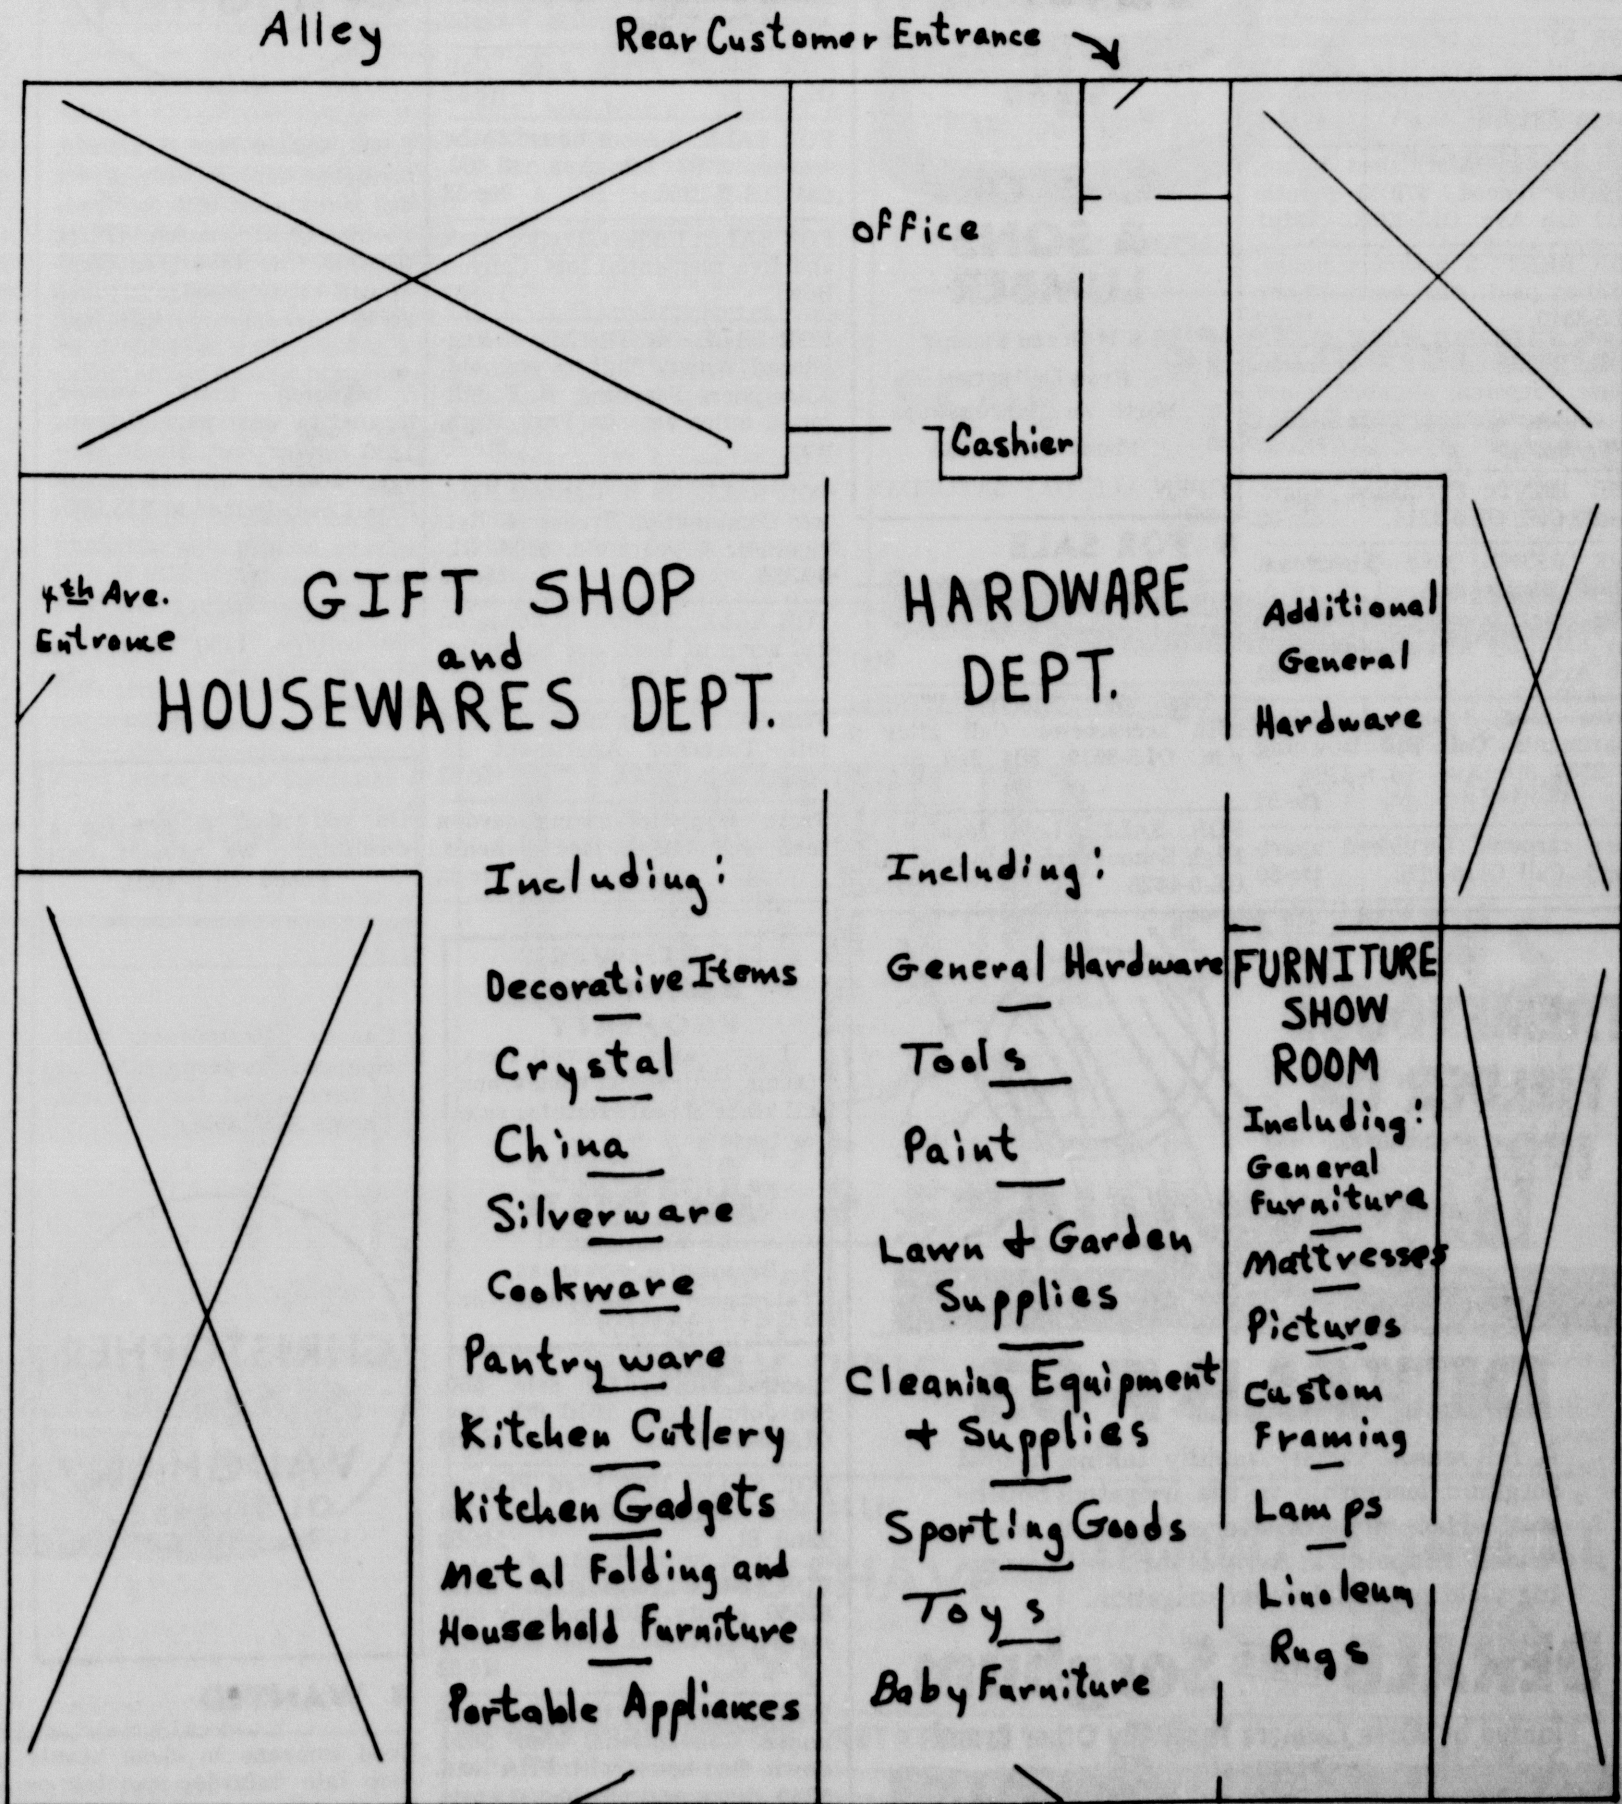

Hammary- Occasional Tables of All Styles

Chromcraft- Metal Dinette Suites

Restonic- Complete price range of Mattresses

We invite you to come visit us and examine our stock of merchandise. We solicit your business and will try to earn it by serving your needs.

Cancer Crusade Opens Sunday With County Goal Of $2,700

Why do you support the American Cancer Crusade?
The seven Canyon residents pictured here answered this question this week, as campaign workers prepared for a house-to-house canvass Sunday.

Here are their statements:
MRS. A. C. CLARK, sixth grade science teacher in Canyon schools:

"I feel that everyone who is able should support this drive. There are several reasons why I support it, but one of the most important is that more children between the ages of three and 14 die from cancer than from any other disease. Perhaps the money I give will help some doctor or scientist discover something that will save some of these children's lives."

Mrs. Clark has an eighth grade daughter, Linda, and is active in the Sue Hite Club and the Presbyterian Church. She has lived in Canyon eight years.

H. R. FULTON JR., Canyon florist:

"Everyone should avail himself of the opportunity to give to the American Cancer Society. Victory over this dread disease is in sight and our dollars might give the gift of life to a loved one. Besides, it is a sound business investment when the return could be good health."

Fulton, a native of Canyon,

MRS. T. B. McCARTER

is active in a number of civic clubs, Methodist Church, and florists' associations. The father of three children, he holds a BS degree in music from WTSC. He has been in business here for 15 years.

SALLY JENNINGS, WTSC sophomore:

"I think it is very worthwhile. Because it is, we can't let our guard down. Just because we are ahead in research, we should not stop. Almost everyone has been touched by cancer in some way, and we should do all we can to cure it."

Sally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Jennings, is a graduate of Canyon High School and an English major at WTSC. She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority and his lived in Canyon all her life.

MRS. T. H. LAIR

MRS. T. H. LAIR, mother of four:

"My very sad experience with cancer has made me think a lot about the American Cancer Society and its efforts to save lives. I believe if we all would support this cause we could be counted as helping some to live who want very much to do so—perhaps your own."

(Mrs. Lair's father was a recent victim of cancer.) Mrs. Lair, a Canyonite since 1946, is active in Girl Scouts, Methodist Church and P-TA. Her children are Andrea, 15; Tom

MRS. DAN SANDERS

Jr., 14; Jennifer, 10; and Ed Shaver, 6.

DELBERT LOWES, Canyon mayor:

"The campaign for the fight against the deadly killer, is not unlike, in theory and principle, a military campaign waged against the enemy. The ever present threat of a dread disease is a challenge, not only to a nation, but to all mankind; and that challenge must be met with a determined effort. If a relative or friend became a casualty, we give as a memorial, but if we have been spared that grief, we give in a spirit of thanksgiving and a desire to help others."

Lowes, who was re-elected mayor of Canyon last week, has lived here some 35 years and is in the lumber business. He has served on the city council two years and was acting mayor from September until his reelection this month. He and his wife have one daughter, Linda, in Canyon High School.

MRS. T. B. McCARTER, retired teacher of physics at WTSC:

"Regardless of how consistently one may follow the rules for good health, he does not know the What, the Why, the How or the When of cancer."

SALLY JENNINGS

A contribution to the Cancer Crusade fund will help scientists to find the answers." Mrs. McCarter, whose husband was head of the WTSC physics department for many years, taught in the laboratory alongside her husband during the war years. They moved to Canyon in 1920 and have one son and three grandchildren.

MRS. DANDERS, teacher of government to Canyon High School seniors:

"Cancer is the Number Two killer of Americans today. In order that this disease be recognized early, its cause found, and its successful treatment determined, much money and effort are needed. I support the drive because I want to be a part of this effort."

Mrs. Sanders, prominent in many Canyon organizations and the Methodist Church, has taught for 15 years. She has two children, Mrs. Tom Knighton of Perryton and Charles Richard Sanders, Fort Worth. She has been in Canyon 35 years.

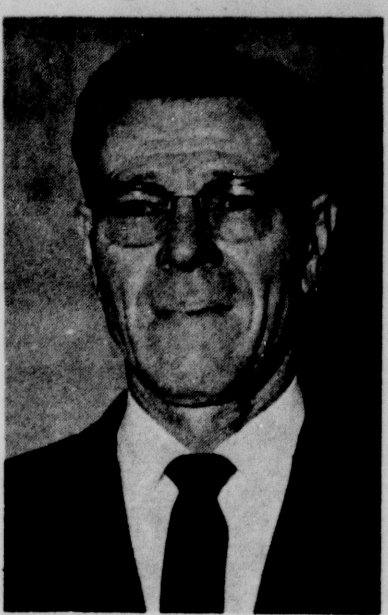

Mrs. Joseph Findley, campaign chairman, announces that area chairmen and workers, numbering about 85, will work Sunday and during the week for a county goal of $2,700. A number of contacts have already been made this week, she adds.

MRS. A. C. CLARK

Dr. Thomas MacOwan, president, said that because of the excellent response in Randall County last year, the chapter exceeded its goal by five per cent.

"We know we can do even better this year," he adds. Legacies or memorials to the American Cancer Society may be made to James Cole at First National Bank.

Student Fined For Violations

Leonard Graves, a West Texas State College student, has been assessed $417 in fines and court costs on his guilty pleas to traffic violations in Randall and Potter counties.

His arrest stemmed from a chase which, officers said, reached more than 100 miles an hour Saturday night.

He appeared before Mrs. Bonita Potter in Amarillo and Justice of the Peace W.A. "Bill" Wilson in Canyon.

Young Farmers Slate Wednesday Meeting

A meeting of Young Farmers and their wives will be held at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night in the agriculture rooms at Canyon High School.

There will be a talk on weed control and grain sorghums. The public is invited.

Runoff Election Is Held At WTSC

An amendment to the Student Association constitution was to appear on the ballot at West Texas State College yesterday when a runoff election for new class representatives to the Student Senate was scheduled.

The amendment would make it possible for the student body president to hold office in other campus organizations. Under the present rule, the president is prohibited from holding any other office during his tenure.

Balloting on the issue stemmed from a petition presented to the present Senate. The change is being sought by students who wanted re-election of Bill McKenzie of Levelland to the presidency.

McKenzie had been chosen president of his fraternity for the 1962-63 session and did not seek re-election.

In the run-offs for Senate seats were Peggy Sue Hales of Canyon and Joe Carol Hickox of Phillips, sophomore post 1; Cyndy Patterson of Friona and Kaye Bradley of Amherst, sophomore post 2; Bill Callarman of Canyon and Sandra McCall of Phillips, sophomore post 3; and Julie Cleveland of Dumas and Shirley Anderle of Midland.

Junior posts and candidates are 1. Pat Herald of Liberal, Kans., and Robbie Mullins of Haskell; 2. Charlotte Marshall of Cactus and Bill Stephens of Post; 3. Price Pritchett of Floydada and Nita Cartwright of Amarillo; and 4. Terri Childers of Dalhart and Georgia Mandis of Amarillo.

Seniors are 1. Gus Gallini of Littlefield and Joyce O'Rear of Amarillo; 2. Nancy Mueller of Sundown and Lewis Jones of Haskell; 3. Roy Hunter of Canyon and Linda Lanham of Borger; and 4. Kenton Knorr of Canyon and Roy Hupp of McLean.

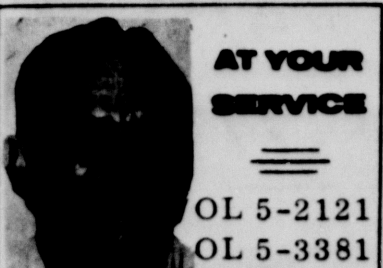

Winning first place in both area and district dairy cattle judging at the West Texas State College contests were, left to right, Glen Metcalf, Wes Bourn and Jerry Ham. Danny O'Donald, also a team member, was unable to compete last weekend.

Projects Get Okay

Resolutions effecting Palo Duro Canyon State Park and West Texas State College have been adopted by the Panhandle Press Association. One authorizes PPA support to the Panhandle Heritage Foundation, the other approves WT's Opportunity Plan for working students.

The resolutions were approved at the association's closing 53rd convention sessions in Amarillo last week-end.

The PHF resolution resolved that "this association and its members be urged to give support to the Panhandle Heritage Foundation."

A fund drive to raise $350,000 for an amphitheatre in the state park is underway. A symphonic drama "dedicated to the portrayal" of the Panhandle's pioneers would be presented there.

The association also "resolved that this association go on record in support of the Opportunity Plan and further be it resolved that this association and its members be urged to give support to the Opportunity Plan wherever possible."

Now OLIVER'S MIGHTY 1900 DIESEL HAS New HYDRA-POWER DRIVE

What a combination for the man who farms big 12,400 pounds of drawbar pull—the most massive pulling power in its class—and the new flexibility of being able to change gear ratios on-the-go, make the Oliver 1900 Diesel the growing choice of the big acreage farmer.

New Hydra-Power Drive puts you in command—puts the 1900's record-smashing pulling power to work for you. When the going gets tough and RPM begins to fall off, you just lift the Hydra-Power lever—with fingertip ease, and increase pulling power 36%.

There are many ways Hydra-Power Drive makes your fieldwork easier, faster and more economical. It gives you twelve forward speeds to choose from, to match any operating conditions. You select the most favorable gear ratio for the job. When the load demand gets too heavy, you simply flip the control lever into Hydra-Power Drive, shifting on-the-go to 36% greater pulling power.

When you come to the end of the row, you no longer need to ride the clutch around. Just flip the lever into Hydra-Power Drive and go through the turn at a safe speed with full engine power and full hydraulic power, then flip the lever back to Direct Drive to resume speed. This shift on-the-go saves wear and tear on your clutch, too.

Men who farm big will find it profitable to specify the Oliver 1900 with Hydra-Power Drive. Where else can they buy such tremendous pulling power combined with 12 speed flexibility? The Oliver 1900 GM Diesel is without question the most useful big job tractor ever built.

CITY OF CANYON

"Fastest Growing Municipality in West Texas"

1600 4TH AVENUE

CANYON, TEXAS

PHONE OL 5-2593

Citizens of Canyon:

It is with a mixed feeling of pride and pleasure that the City Commission and the City Manager presents to you this annual report. Three years ago you provided the City of Canyon with the Home Rule Charter under which we now operate, and each succeeding year's operations have reflected the wisdom of your foresight.

Prompted by a desire to submit a report that is informative and of interest, we have taken the following means to present to you this panorama of your city government in action. The purpose is three-fold: (1) to acquaint you with the employees who serve you by day and by night, (2) to emphasize the services provided which are the necessities for your comfort and the protection of your health, and (3) to pay tribute to the excellent participation of many citizens. Voluntarily serving on Boards, Commissions and the Fire Department are fellow citizens who give unselfishly of their time and specialized training in-order that the comfort and safety of all may be assured.

May we express our sincere appreciation of the whole hearted co-operation you have extended in the past and respectfully request your continued support.

Sincerely,

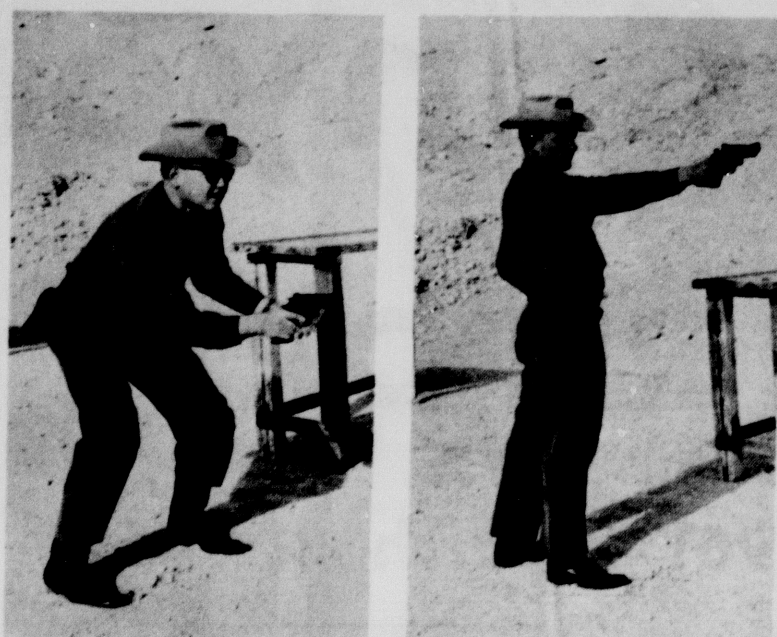

Delbert E. Lowes

Delbert E. Lowes
Mayor.

Police Department

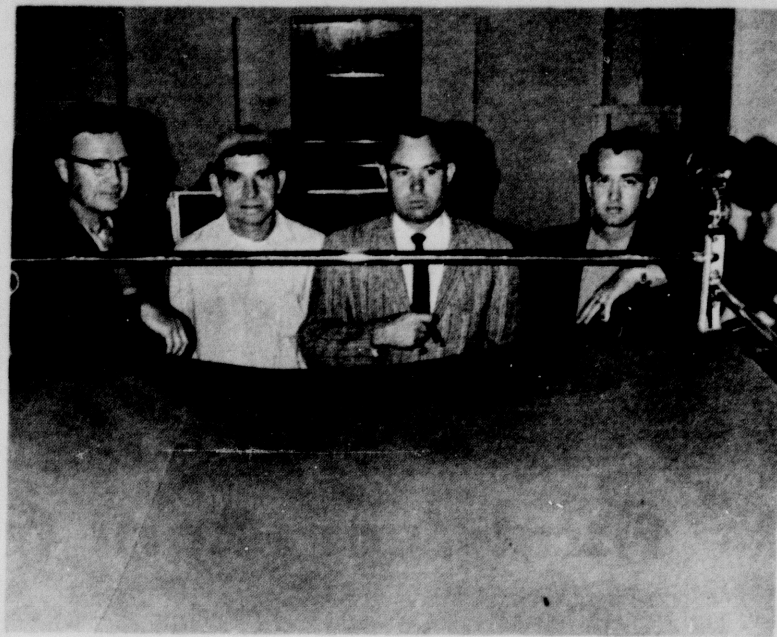

Corporation Court Judge D.P. CLARK and Chief of Police L.D. CALDWELL discuss the monthly Corporation Court-Police Department Report. Chief Caldwell supervises the five members of his department and sees that all laws are enforced. Judge Clark reviews citations, collects fines, conducts jury trials and handles special problems.

Officers ASA ATCHLEY and GEORGE HINCH qualify on the pistol range constructed for the department by the Street Department. All officers are encouraged to qualify on the range periodically as part of their regular training sessions. First aid, swimming and life saving, self defense, municipal law, court procedure, the Texas Traffic Code and other similar subjects are included in the departments training program.

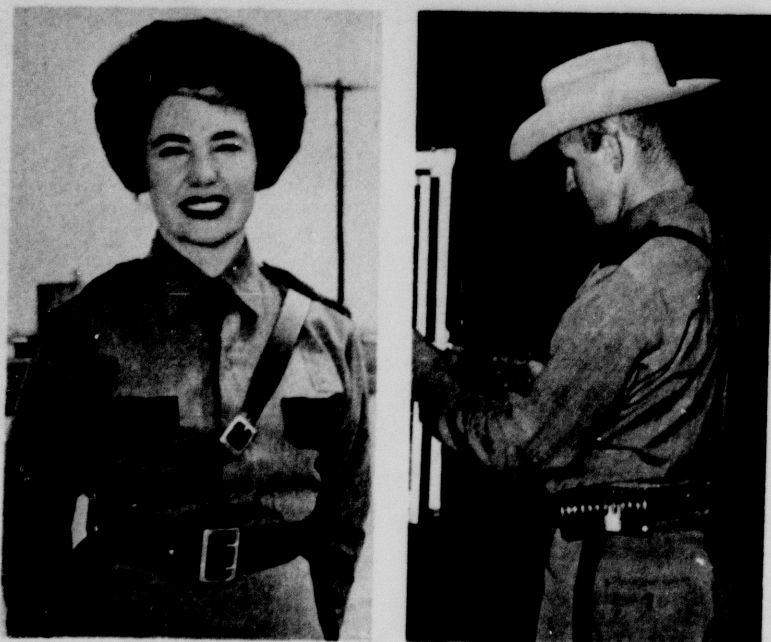

Fire Department

Largest fire loss in Canyon during the fiscal year was the Pharmacy Drug Store on the west side of the square. The fire burned some three hours threatening adjoining business places before it was brought under control. No one was seriously injured but fire loss was estimated to be $90,000.

RAY REYNOLDS inspects a door on the animal control truck shortly before the new animal control ordinance became effective April 1st. Officer Reynolds is a regular member of the department and serves as Animal Control Warden during his off duty shifts. School patrol officer PATRICIA HENDERSON has the responsibility of getting children safely across the highway in front of the elementary school.

Officer ROY HANCOCK checks the rear door of a downtown business place to see that all is secure. Business areas are checked regularly at night to see that all doors and windows are locked and property has not been stolen. Duties of the Police Department include answering complaints, traffic control, protection of life and property and control of stray and unlicensed animals.

Fire Marshal JACK JENNINGS prepares to climb into the departments Ford truck prior to conducting a routine fire hazard inspection. The Fire Marshal is appointed by the Mayor. The Fire Marshal's duties consist of regular inspections for fire hazards, public school fire drills, determining the cause of fires, completing monthly reports, and varied other jobs.

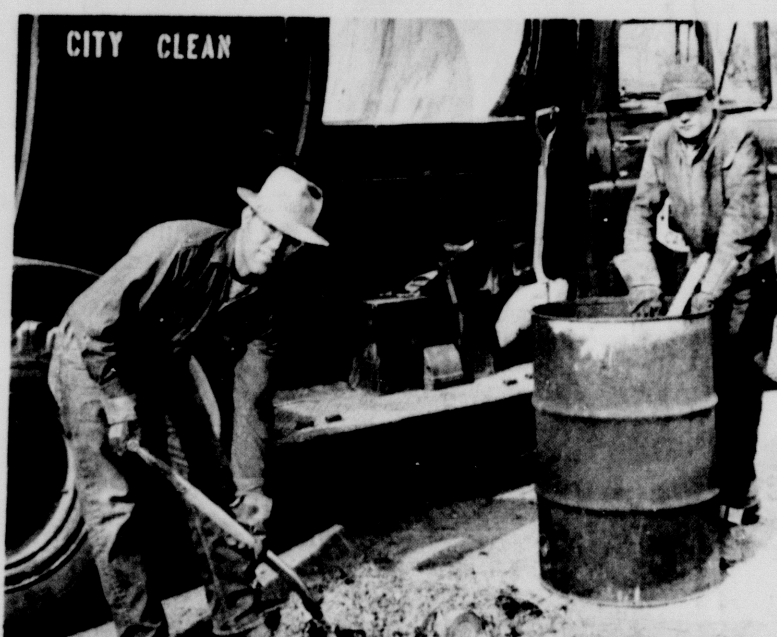

The department's one full time employee, ROBERT RICE, lines the department's six vehicles up in front of the fire station. (The 1951 Ward La France Pumper obtained by the civil defense organization can be seen in the back ground.) Rice is responsible for keeping the department's trucks and equipment in good operating condition. He also answers fire calls by himself whenever possible.

Sanitation Department

Driver RICK KING and Collectors TOM GREEN and WILLIAM LOVEN load one of the departments packer type collection trucks. Business areas receive daily collection service and residential areas are collected weekly. Whenever possible residential areas are collected weekly with open flat bed trucks.

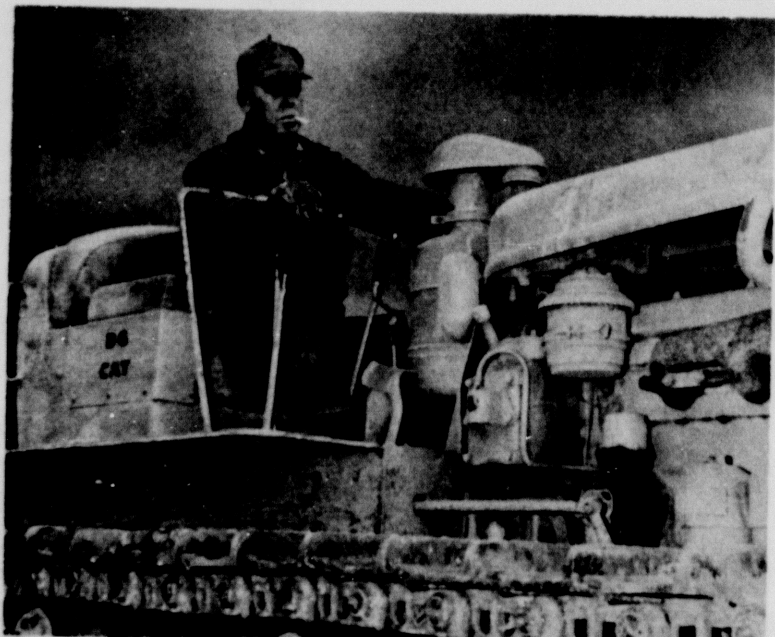

Collectors DAVID DAILEY and ALVIN FOSTER load trash and debris in a residential area. Flat bed trucks are used to collect grass trimmings, weeds, and other items not suited for the packer trucks. The Sanitation Department collects in excess of 500 cubic yards of trash weekly.

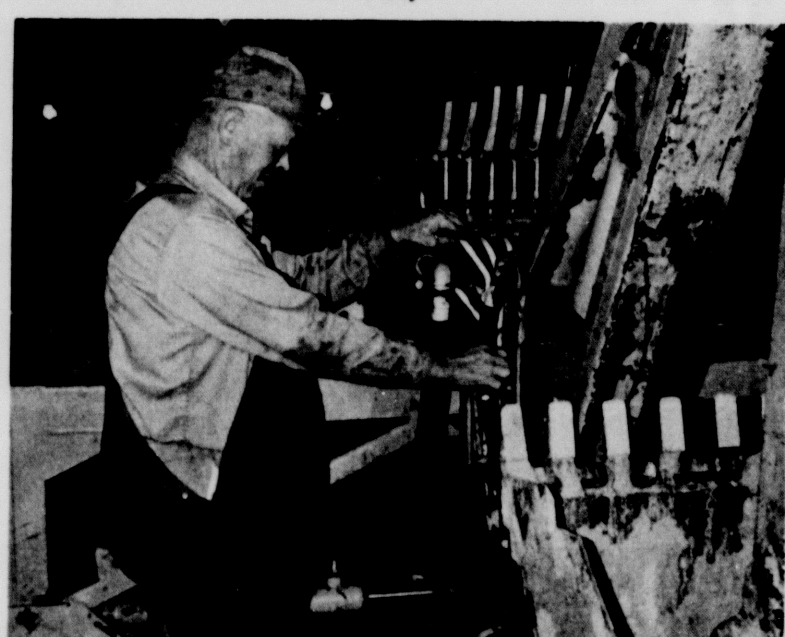

Department of Public Works Superintendent ARCHIE DAVIS inspects part of the 17 blocks of streets paved during the year. Archie is in charge of the Street Department, the Sanitation Department, the Park Department, and the city dump grounds. He has been in the employ of the city nearly 20 years.

ARCHIE DEAN DAVIS services the city's maintainer prior to blading a dirt street. Dirt streets are bladed after each rain. Dirt streets are calched by city crews as schedules will permit. Patching of paved streets is also handled by the Street Department.

ELMO KING operates the department's D6 crawler tractor leveling and packing the dump grounds after the trash has been burned. The city has a salvage rights agreement at the dump grounds with BOB THOMAS. In exchange for salvage rights and a small monthly fee, Thomas directs dumping operations and supervises operation of the grounds.

Maintenance of the city's vehicles and equipment is a large job. Mechanic ELMO KING checks over a backhoe in the city garage prior to it being used to dig a ditch for a new water extension. All vehicles and equipment are serviced on a regular schedule and repaired and painted when necessary.

HARLEY WESLEY assembles a traffic control sign prior to installation in a congested alley. High winds and vandalism take a heavy toll of signs such as this one. Other duties of this department include operation of the city's fogging machine and mowing city property and right of way during the summer months.

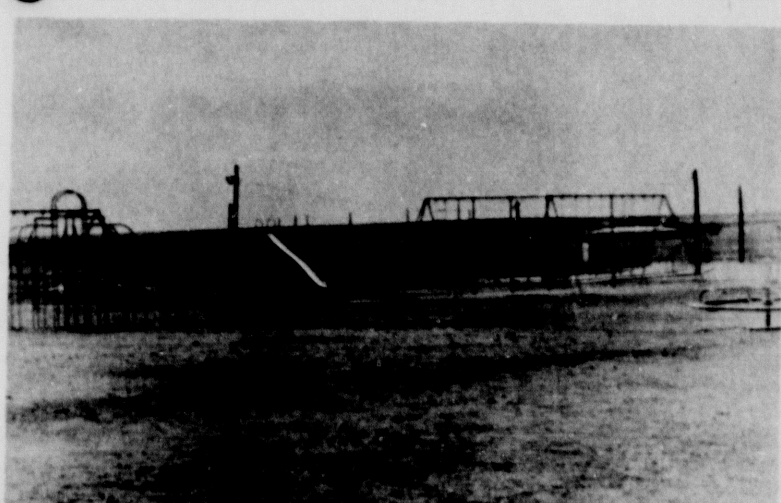

LEON WESLEY climbs from the city's street sweeper after cleaning a portion of the city's paved streets. The downtown business area is cleaned weekly and residential areas are swept as schedules will permit.

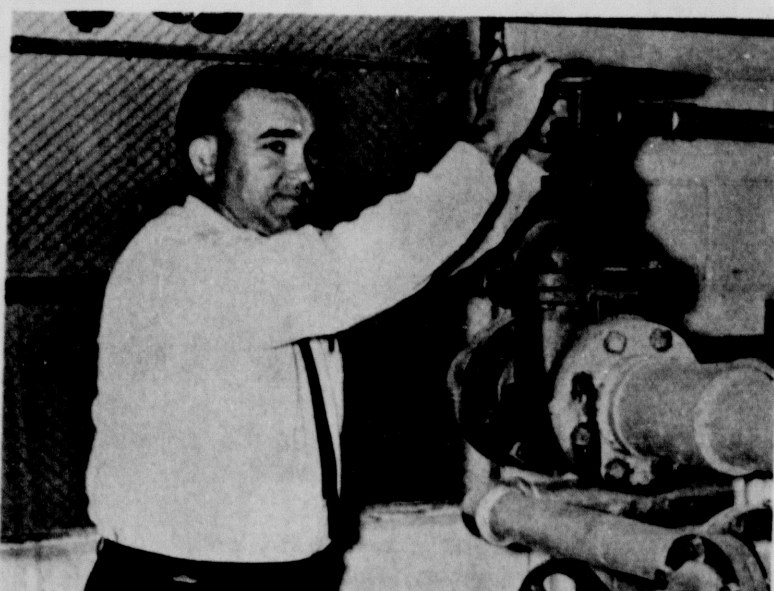

Park and Swimming Pool

Three Canyon High School coeds enjoy the sun on one of the diving boards at the city swimming pool. The girls are KATHY HINGER, KAY JARNIGAN, and LINDA TROTH. The city pool is equipped with sun decks and umbrellas, chlorinator and filtering units, and a modern water heating system.

Shown here is playground equipment at Conner Park. In the background is the swimming pool, a popular place in the summertime.

Pool Manager CHARLEY CHAMBLESS tests the filtering equipment at the pool. Coach Chambless manages the pool when it is open during the summer months. Swimming classes are conducted each summer for all age groups.

Park caretaker DEWAYNE KISER cuts weeds around the swings in the playground area of the park. The Canyon Lions Club donated and installed two picnic pavilions and six cooking units at the park during the year for public use.

Water and Sewer Department

Water and Sewer Superintendent M.H. NITENGALE checks for vibration in the pumping equipment in the city's number one pumping station. Canyon's water supply is obtained from 10 deep wells, 7 in the surrounding area and 3 in the Umbarger field west of town.

MARSTON (BUD) BURNEY prepares to flush and service a fire hydrant as part of the regular maintenance schedule. The Water Department repairs leaks and damages to the water system in addition to keeping an ample supply of water available to meet all demands.

Sewage treatment plant operator ROBERT ROGERS cleans the spray bar in the trickling filter at the plant located southeast of the city. Two new sludge drying beds and a new sludge return pump were installed at the plant as part of the current expansion program.

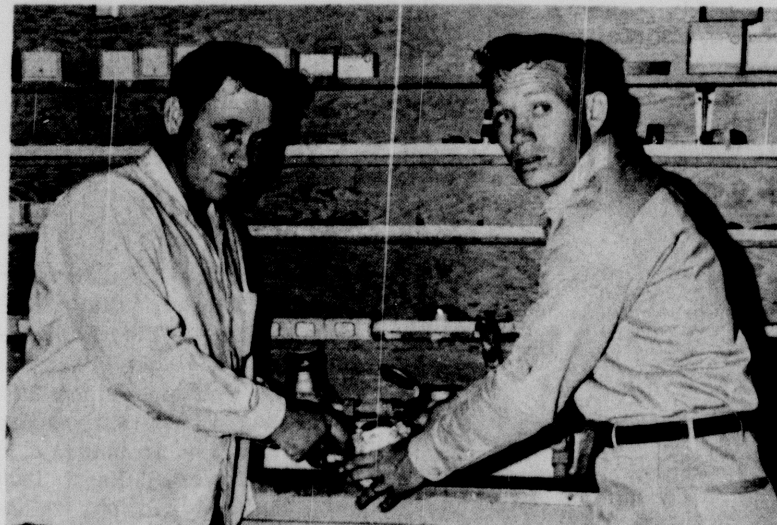

DONNIE ROGERS, ROBERT ROGERS, and BUD BURNEY rod a sanitary sewer line in a residential area. Manholes and sewer lines are inspected, treated, and cleaned when necessary in a regular program. Primary causes of sewer stoppages are tree roots.

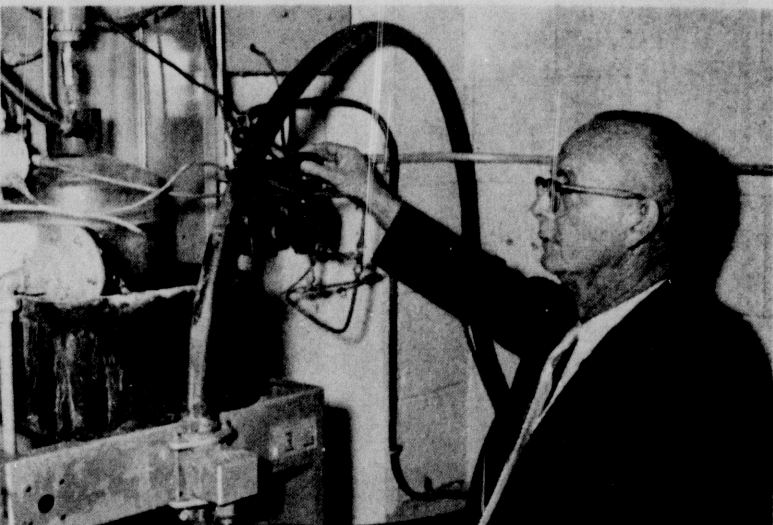

DONNIE ROGERS removes the lid from a water meter box to read the meter and record the amount of water used by a customer. Water meters are read monthly and the readings recorded in special books. These books are then taken to the city office where the approximately 1,650 accounts are billed.

Typical of the many water and sewer extensions made during the year is the one shown above. ROBERT ROGERS, BUD BURNEY and DONNIE ROGERS are assisting here in installing a three inch water line and a manhole.

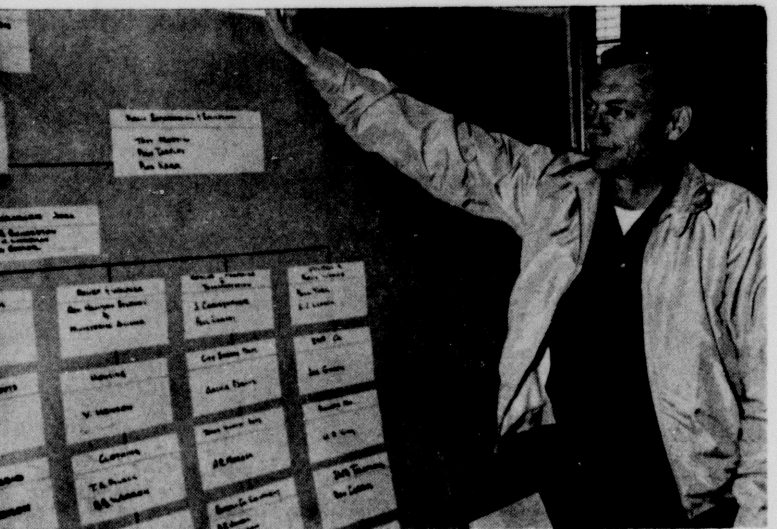

Fifteen to twenty water meters are removed from service monthly, checked on the test bench, cleaned and painted, and returned to service. BUD BURNEY and DONNIE ROGERS check a meter recently removed from service.

Superintendent M.H. NITENGALE inspects the chlorinator in the number one pumping station. The raw water is treated to state specifications before it is pumped into the distribution system. Chlorination is an automatic operation.

Colleges sending teams include WT, Texas Tech, Sul Ross, New Mexico State, Texas Western, Oklahoma State University, Hardin - Simmons, South Plains Junior College, Lubbock Christian College, and San Angelo Junior College.

A grand entry will open the events Thursday night.

Don Knowles of Canyon made a lunge at the string to beat Dalhart's anchor man in the 440-yard relay. The Canyon team set a new record of 44.75, erasing the old one of 45.3 set in 1959 by Dalhart.

Coach "Jeep" Webb was holding his breath Saturday in the fading minutes of the district track meet. As things turned out, his Eagles beat Tulia 10 27/28 points for the championship. Had Canyon failed to place in the mile relay and had Tulia won it, the Eagles would have taken the crown by the narrow fractions. Canyon ended with 138 1/7 points to 127 5/28 points for Tulia.

It just proves every half point is important. With a point system counting 10, 8, 6, 4, 2, 1 for first through sixth, complications can arise with a tie for sixth.

Ronny Harris proved his worth Saturday. He not only set records in the shot put and discus but was versatile enough to get points in the 100 and 220. It's a rather unusual sight to see a boy weighing over 200 pounds come barreling down the track in one of the sprints.

Jeryl Vance showed his stuff in the hurdles. He won both the high and low events after badly cutting his knee in the preliminaries. In an attempt to hold low on the hurdle to gain valuable time, the speedster hit his left knee several times. Vance's race with teammate Doug Ward in the lows was a royal get-together. Both boys had been running almost identical times in workout and were only fractions apart in the preliminaries.

In the finals, Vance was well out front at the midway mark, but Ward began to pull up on the last two hurdles. Everyone else was out of the running. Vance hit the tape only short yards ahead of his teammate, and both broke the old record.

The duo will have really rugged competition in the regional meet, but it will be interesting to see how close they run to each other.

Tryouts for Babe Ruth League baseball will be held Friday at Babe Ruth Park. Eligible and interested boys should be on the field between 5:15 p.m. and 5:30 p.m.

Last week in the exes-varsity football game, the regulars were met by a hustling, hard hitting group of ex-buffaloes. From sideline appearances the varsity got the worst end of things. There were considerably more cut lips and bleeding noses among them.

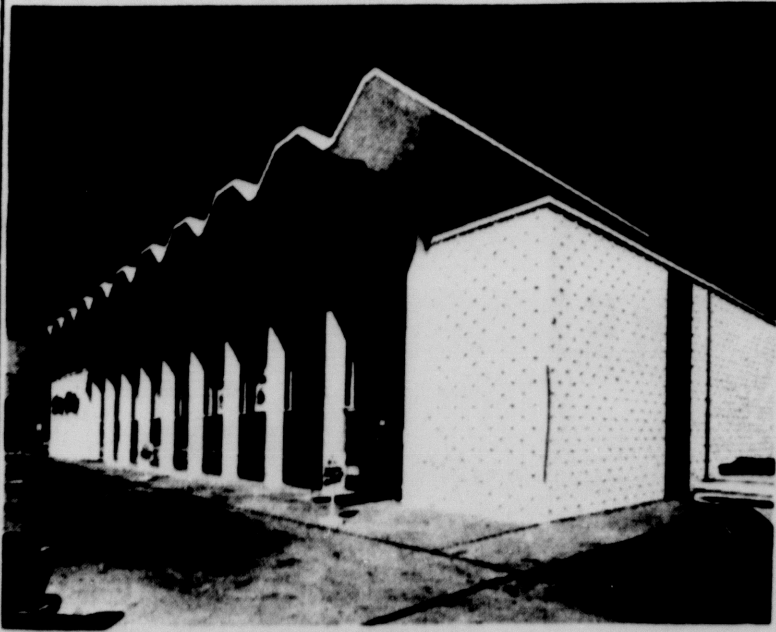

It was late in the game when the Buffs began to hit with any damaging force. Had it not been for the Speedy Gonzales-like running of Pete Pedro, the Buffs might have been butted right out of the stadium. Jerry Logan and Ollie Ross added a touchdown each in the 26-0 game.

The game ended in a unique and funny fashion. With nine seconds remaining to play, the exes' quarterback threw a sideline pass to one of his backs, and the entire ex-squad led interference to the goal some 80-yards away.

Ooph! Joe Walden is earth-bound for the exes with Leslie Rolando riding him down. The varsity outscored the exes 26-0 last week in the first annual battle.

Spring Training Ends As Varsity Whips X's

Spring training drills for West Texas State football team ended last week with the varsity taking a 26-0 victory over the exes.

Coach Joe Kerbel announced that the game would become annual.

The varsity had trouble scoring on the exes and the longest touchdown run was a 45-yard pass interception and return by Ollie Ross.

Pete Pedro was the top ground gainer for the varsity, picking up two touchdowns and 58 yards on 13 carries.

The other score came on a 37-yard pass play from Jim Dawson to Jerry Logan.

Pete's first scoring dash, 12 yards, came in the second quarter. His last touchdown, a 16-yarder, came late in the fourth quarter.

The varsity outrushed the alumni 127 yards to 97 and outpassed them 214 yards to 97.

Charlie Sanders was top ground gainer for the exes, carrying eight times for 32 yards.

An after spring training party was given West Texas State football players, coaches and wives Sunday. The get-together was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Halmes in their Amarillo home.

A rising tide of hepatitis--sometimes called "yellow jaundice"--engulfed 3,155 Texans last year, a 38 per cent increase in cases compared to the 1960 rate.

City Man Winner

John E. Albers of Canyon won the $100 attendance prize at the Mid-Plains Rural Telephone Cooperative, Inc., annual meeting in Tulsa last week. Members elected a new director -- Clint Robinson of Kress -- and re-named three others, Denis Brandt of Umbarger, Leonard Boehning of Clea and James Harley Gunter, Jr., of Goodnight. In other action, members approved two amendments to the bylaws. One clarified the terms of the directors. The other authorized the co-op to refund membership and equity fees to a resigned member after all bills have been paid.

REA Field Representative addressed the 202 persons -- members and guests -- attending the meeting.

Other board members are H. M. Kinsey of Happy, Melton McGehee of Wayside, Bruce Fields of Arney, Bayard Sadler of Vigo Park; Earl Cantwell of Silverton; and Newt Redmon and Victor L. Harman of Tulsa.

Texas farmers and ranchmen who need fence posts and have pine woodlands available may find it profitable to use pine posts treated with a wood preservative. Randall County Agent John Brazzil can supply details.

The next few weeks certainly offer many things in the art field in our vicinity. I will make this column a calendar of events for those interested in attending or participating in some of these art activities.

There is a very exciting exhibition of paintings that opened this past Sunday in the Fine Arts Building. The paintings are the work of Miss Sally McCee of Amarillo. This is a show that shouldn't be missed. More than 200 attended the opening of the exhibition on Sunday afternoon. The show will remain up for another week if you missed the opening.

Several interesting events will be in Amarillo in the next two weeks.

The Second Annual International Exhibition of Paintings and Sculpture will be held in the Estate Life Building on April 29. This exhibition is a benefit sponsored by the Amarillo Legal Secretaries Association to raise money for a scholarship fund to help a student attend West Texas State College.

The prizes are very worthwhile and the entry fee is only three dollars. An artist can help by entering his work and also have the opportunity of winning a very generous prize.

Tomorrow is the last day to mail in your entry blank for this very special show. This exhibition of paintings and sculpture is the only large general show held in the Panhandle. It compares with the other large competitions sponsored by art museums in the larger cities of Texas.

From April 28 to May 11, there will be an exhibition of paintings of "Lubbock Collectors" held at St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Amarillo. Amarillo College will sponsor a collection of prints from De Cincque Graphic Art Gallery of Philadelphia. This collection will be shown in the College Union and can be seen days or evenings through tomorrow. The prints, priced from $5 to $100, are for sale.

Sunset Center will have an exhibition of paintings in the Mall from May 5 through May 12. The Girl Scouts will be featured in this show. Other artists will also be showing their work in this show, and a few will actually be working at easels during the exhibition.

Art Oddity For the Week ... For the many unhappy people in large families, who only own two television sets, and wish to view something that is being presented on our three channels, I heard a man on radio last week announce that a new invention has made it possible to buy a private screen and earphones that evidently all clamp on the head so that you can view your set privately.

This announcer said he could picture a family of four sitting in the front room, each with his little set clamped to his head. The daughter would be smiling dreamily as she watched her hero; the mother would have tears running down her face as she watched a moving scene from a drama; the father would be shouting out loud as a sports scene became more exciting; and the little son would be shooting into the air as he watched a cowboy ride by.

(Imagine how little men from Mars would feel if they found our American family in a room together all with their little sets of earphones and little TV screens in front of their faces! Wonder who the inventor was??)

Roberts Named Head Of Lions

Art Roberts has been elected president of the Lions Club, succeeding Dr. W. J. Wooten. Also named were Carroll Vaughan, first vice president; Manley Bryan, second vice president; Dave Lipscomb, third vice president; Troy Martin and Bill York, directors; Bob Darnell, Lion Tamer, Luther Lawless, tall twister; and Aaron Mann, secretary-treasurer.

The other directors are Kenneth Waugh and Marion Higdon, whose terms expire next year.

Randall Stock Group To Meet

Members of the Randall County Junior Livestock Association will meet in the Livestock Building at 8 o'clock tonight.

"We will ask for a financial report and report from each committee chairman," President Buchanan recognized.

Charles L. Buchanan of Canyon has been recognized scholastically at Texas Tech, where he is a student.

dent Richmond Hales wrote the members. "These reports should cover the committee-work in the past and suggestions for the future.

"There is some interest now in an expansion to the building," he added. "This too will be discussed."

"Now is also the time to make changes in the show rules for next year."
